CIA Infiltrated 17 Area Groups, Gave Out LSD

Suicide Revealed

By Thomas D'Tonno
Wired from New York

A suicide employee of the Department of the Army unwittingly took LSD as part of a Central Intelligence Agency test, then jumped 10 floors in his death last June 8, 1968, according to the Rockefeller Commission report released yesterday.

The man was given the drug while attending a meeting with CIA personnel working on a test project that involved the administration of mind-bending drugs to unsuspecting employees and the testing of new listening devices to eavesdropping on citizens who were unaware they were being watched.

"This individual was not made aware he had been given LSD until about 20 min-

District the Focus

By Bill Richards
Wired from New York

Agents working for the CIA were instructed to infiltrate and monitor at least 15 Washington area activist groups—ranging from the Black Panthers to the Washington Ethical Society—during 1967 and 1968, according to the Rockefeller Commission report released yesterday.

Washington became the focus of undercover CIA surveillance of antiwar and black political groups during those years, when protest demonstrations and discussions were growing in size and intensity, the commission reported.

The domestic spying started after requests from President Johnson for information on possible foreign links to domestic extremist groups and because of the CIA's own fear that political dissidents might have the capacity to harm
